

Application Service Providing Reinvents Small and Medium Size Businesses

In today's business world, small and medium size businesses struggle to compete with large enterprise. With limited budgets their technology options have always meant limits. However, NorDutch Technologies, LLC brings to them a innovative new technology that gives them all of the benefits of a large firm but at an affordable price. How can this be? It is called Application Service Providing and it is sweeping the country. More and more companies are finding the demands for technology taxing on their budgets. Each day their hardware and software grow older and the price of the newest and greatest seem to increase at the same rate. Application Service Providing gives these companies the opportunity to save the technology cost by providing them with a virtual network.

Through a secured internet connection, companies can use Microsoft Office Products and share their data as if they had their very own network environment. An environment which can cost a small firm thousands of dollars, is now available to them for minimal costs.

Some of the terrific benefits of this new technology are:

1. Access your data anytime or from anyplace
2. Prevents Data Loss
3. Virus Protection
4. Anti-Spam for Email
5. Web Content Filtering
6. Remote Assistance
7. Scalable Solution for your business
8. Cross Platform Compatible
9. Integrates with Web Services
10. Lowers Initial and long term technology costs
11. Extends the life and usefulness of your equipment
12. Security
13. Reliability

NorDutch Technologies, LLC is bringing this technology to companies across the country.
