

May 2005

PETALUMA, CA – NorDutch Technologies, LLC has announced that Sonoma College has contracted with them to provide Application Service Providing (ASP) for service to their multiple locations. An accredited college whose main campus is located in Petaluma, California stretches across the country with various offices between California and New Jersey. The service offers them all the benefits of sharing the same resources at an affordable monthly cost. ASP provides one virtual location while allowing them to continue to grow in various states.

The ASP service is designed to provide small and medium size companies with their own virtual IT staff. At a minimal cost, the service provides the use of the latest technology and software including Microsoft Office, Microsoft Exchange, Quickbooks and a numerous custom software packages. It creates continuity among companies who have traveling employees and resolves those issues associated with keeping in contact.